11. Radio Communication

Except in an emergency, or otherwise as directed by the Race Officer, a boat shall neither make radio transmissions while racing nor receive radio communications not available to all boats. This restriction also applies to mobile telephones.

All boats participating in the race should carry a VHF radio, which in addition to channel 16, will be capable of transmitting and receiving channels 6,8,72 and 77. Weather forecast information may be available from Lough Derg Coast Guard on channel 61 at scheduled times.

The Race Officer will, if conditions or circumstances so require, and to advise competitors of changes in the course, communicate with competitors using channel 72. Where this channel is not available or is being used for other communications, the Race Officer will advise of the new working channel by broadcasting on channel 16.

12. Disclaimer of Liability

Competitors participate in the Gortmore Bell entirely at their own risk. See rule 4, Decision to Race. The responsibility for the safety of competing boats and their crews lies solely with the competitors. The wearing of personal flotation devices by all members of each crew is required at all times. The safety of a boat and her crew is the sole responsibility of the person in charge (RRS 46) who must do his/her best to ensure that the boat is well found, thoroughly seaworthy, has all its equipment (and safety equipment) in good working condition, and that their boat is manned by an experienced crew who have necessary experience and training to deal with the weather and sea conditions encountered. The organising authority will not accept any liability for material damage or personal injury or death sustained in conjunction with or prior to, during, or after the Gortmore Bell.

13. Insurance

Each participating boat shall be insured with valid third-party liability insurance.
